

Our primary concern is the health and safety of our workers, customers and our communities.

We have been closely monitoring the COVID-19 situation locally and nationally. As the Pandemic has been evolving we are committed to updating our operating procedures to ensure the safety of our workers and all involved.

We are working to ensure a safe work environment for all and following local and national government protocols as posted, as well as all site specific protocols. This includes compliance with government orders related to essential services.

Legions Rigging and Lifting is committed to ensuring the continued operation of our business that has been deemed a Non-Health Essential Service Provider. We are communicating frequently with our employees to ensure the safest possible work environment. Legions has implemented daily safety meetings and discussions to best modify our work methods wherever possible to follow physical distancing guidelines.

The situation around COVID-19 remains very dynamic and we continue to remind employees and subcontractors to take all the precautions they can by following public health protocols.

We are working continuously to adapt and share new recommendations as COVID-19 information continues to evolve.

We are committed to providing our service, maintenance, erecting and dismantling teams with the safest working environment possible.
